

Little Green Button

Optional Hardware

We also produce hardware which compliments our Little Green Button software.

Some users may prefer to use a more traditional external panic button rather than clicking on their PC screen. These panic switches and strips are also ideal for those users who move away from their PC and can be placed in rooms without a computer.

Panic Switches

A Little Green Button Panic Switch costs

just £10.00 (ex VAT)

The panic switches come as standard on a 2 metre length of cable but can be custom made to any length required.

They are provided with screws and simply connect via the serial port on a PC (we can provide serial to USB convertors if required). To activate the Little Green Button press the switch.

Each switch can be configured to be activated by a suitable pattern of presses, for example, only when pressed more than once or when pressed and held for 2 seconds. This can prevent accidental activation.

Panic Strips

The following is a price guide for each Panic Strip (all ex VAT):

0.5 metres	£45.00
1 metre	£75.00
2 metres	£90.00

The panic strips are made to order and therefore can be custom made to any length with the required length of cable. They are connected via the serial port on a PC (we can provide serial to USB convertors if required).

The strips are designed to be fixed to the wall. To activate the Little Green Button, hit any portion of the Panic Strip.

Each strip can be configured to be activated by a suitable pattern of presses, for example, only when pressed more than once or when pressed and held for two seconds. This can help to prevent accidental activation.
