

LITTLE GREEN BUTTON

USER GUIDE

Little Green Button is an electronic panic button that sits discreetly on your computer screen. Just double-click it when you need help, and any linked devices (e.g. your colleagues' computers) will be alerted.

How does it work?

STEP 1

Double click on the icon to call for assistance - your button will then turn red to confirm the alert status.

STEP 2

Alerts will pop up on all connected devices.

STEP 3

A colleague can respond to the panic alarm and come to your aid.

Once a member of your team has responded, the Little Green Button icon will turn yellow, so you know that help is on the way.

You can cancel an alarm if you click it by accident - don't worry! Just double click the button again, or right click on your button and select 'Assistance No Longer Required' from the menu.

(Although we do really recommend still following up on cancelled request).

How will this help me?

Scary situations can arise in any workplace, at any time. Little Green Button is a discreet and easy way to alert those people you trust if you ever feel threatened or unsafe while on the job.

Often a quick response from someone close by is all that's needed to prevent a situation from getting out of hand. Unlike other systems, you don't need to connect to a central server, and it can even work without an internet connection.
